FIRE DOORS: SAVE LIVES & PROPERTY

Did you know that you could be prosecuted for not fitting third-party accredited fire door assemblies?

All our branches are BWF Approved Fire Door Centres. For best-practice information and advice, we're the one to speak to.

At Howarth Timber we take fire very seriously. We only stock the highest quality CERTIFIRE Approved fire doors and components. And, because we appreciate that fire safety compliance can be both complex and potentially disastrous for your business, all of our nationwide branches are BWF Approved Fire Door Centres where staff who have been fully trained by the BWF to understand fire doors and the associated Regulations are on hand to offer advice.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Even on existing dwellings, doors need to be fit in accordance with all manufacturers recommendations and should be checked regularly as part of a maintenance programme.
- To avoid invalidating the certification of the fire door ONLY CERTIFIRE Approved ironmongery and intumescent must be used.
- Failure to do this could mean that you put lives and property at risk and leave yourself open to criminal prosecution.
- The new Building Regulations - Approved Document B strongly recommends that a third party accredited Fire Door Assembly must be used.
- To ensure you comply, the door closer, intumescent, glazing, lock, latch and hinges must be third party tested and approved and compatible with the particular fire door and frame.
- By using BWF-CERTIFIRE certificated doorset components, you can have complete confidence in the specification, selection, purchase and use of our fire doors. Turn over for more details.
